BASIC CLEAN & CHECK SERVICE DEFINED

IMPORTANT NOTE: Due to the wide variety of heating and air conditioning equipment available on the market today along with a large variety of older equipment still in use, the basic clean and check procedures vary as well.

The purpose and goal of the basic clean and check procedure is to run through the given equipment's sequence of operation to make sure it is working the way it should. A basic visual inspection and cleaning is done to relevant starting and running components where applicable.

Should a more thorough inspection and or cleaning of any given component be required, those items that are not easily accessible during the basic inspection, the client will be notified prior to said thorough inspection and or cleaning with options and pricing for said additional services.

Example(s), the furnace heat exchanger, and the furnace AC coil ("A" coil).

The basic clean and check services do not include any thermostat programming, filters, batteries, and any and all other parts or the related labor required to install same.

During or following the basic clean and check service, the servicing technician will communicate concerns, and make recommendations, where applicable, to the client.

DON'T BE CAUGHT OFF GUARD AND BE PREPARED BEFORE YOU NEED YOUR HEAT OR AIR CONDITIONING!
